President's View . . .

Greetings,

I know we were all disappointed to have to cancel our reunion in September, but we have to be thankful that we had the time to do so. Can you imagine the problems we would have had if we were there when the storm hit? There is no doubt we were lucky we had the time to change our plans and postpone our gathering. Now, as a bonus, we can look forward to some time in Florida that will give us a bit of relief from the January chill while offering us a chance to re-unite.

It also gives me the opportunity to write another “final” message as president. What I believe is the most important item on our horizon is the current world situation. It seems that we are drifting toward another world conflict. That would be devastating! I don't have to describe the horrors a new global war would inflict upon the world. We just can't let that happen. I would like to see us set aside some time at the convention in January to discuss what, if anything, we can do as individuals or as a group to work for peace. Think about it.

On a personal note, we gave up our house and moved into a condominium this summer. It was a long time coming but it “was time” and we are happily adjusting to our new situation.

I would like to draw your attention to the back cover of the April-July issue of The CUB, and the important message from our treasurer, Mike Sheaner. The CUB is a great publication but we need continuous financial support to keep it going at the current quality. Please help however you can. I have always asked for a hard copy of The CUB, but in light of the cost, I am now switching to electronic delivery, as suggested by our treasurer. In this regard we should all reconsider our annual contribution to the association and give what we can to help our organization remain healthy.

In the previous issue of The CUB I described my experience with Honor Flight. Since that issue was printed I've learned more about the organization and can offer you more information. This is taken, mostly verbatim, from their website. Honor Flight is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing veterans with honor and closure. Its mission is to transport America's veterans to Washington, D.C. to visit those memorials dedicated to honor their service and the sacrifices they and their friends made. The organization provides an opportunity for the veterans to visit and reflect at these memorials. Top priority is given to senior veterans and World War II survivors, along with those who may be terminally ill. Their site contains the following opinion:

Of all of the wars in recent memory, it was World War II that truly threatened our very existence as a nation — and as a culturally diverse, free society. According to the Department of Veteran Affairs, an estimated 640 World War II veterans die each day. Our time to express our thanks to these brave men and women is running out.

The organization's website indicates that in 2016 they flew 20,558 veterans to D.C. and that they currently have about 27,272 on waiting lists: 2,747 WWII vets, 8,507 Korean vets, 15,429 Vietnam vets, and 589 others.

Honor Flight, Inc. can be reached at 937-521-2400. Its headquarters is located at 175 South Tuttle Road, Springfield, Ohio, 45505. I recommend that you check it out.

Once again I want to express my appreciation on behalf of the entire membership for the hard work and time spent by the dedicated officers and Board members who keep our organization going.

Chaplain's Message . . .

Remembered

As humans, we remember things we do not want to and we cannot remember things we need to. Our lives are run by day planners and electronic calendars, task reminders and sticky notes. We have to remember important personal dates such as birthdays, anniversaries, dentist appointments and parent-teacher conferences. On top of all that we have work related items that need to be remembered — things such as client meetings, due dates and delivery dates. Our lives are inundated with things to remember. Our memories can be triggered by many different things. As mentioned before we have devices that aide us in our mid- to short-term memory, but what about our long-term memory, suppressed memories and memories of past events. Surely we do not have sticky notes laying around reminding us of events gone by.

My son and I like to run and every Saturday we run a paved trail in the city. The only downfall to this trail is the sewage vent ports that line it. If there happens to be a breeze you will immediately, but only momentarily, be over powered by the stench of sewage. The first time I had the misfortune of gasping in the sewage smell my brain brought into focus Guantanamo Bay, Cuba where I had been deployed in 1995. I immediately remembered that the sewage smell was a very prominent odor due to the port-a-johns all over the area, and of course, one memory lead to the next and I was reliving the event all over again, in my mind.

When people smell, hear or see certain things it triggers a memory that they relive in their mind. This is a very normal human function and some of those memories are good and others not so good, but they are all a part of our past. The word “remember” as we know it means to recall or bring back into thought. I want to propose a different way to look at the word “remember”. Let’s break the word apart as “Re” “Member” meaning to join with again. When we remember something, we are rejoining our thoughts and emotions to an event. When we remember people, we are rejoining their lives and our own.

When we gather at our reunion in Chaplain's Message . . .

January let us RE-MEMBER, meaning to rejoin our lives with the thoughts and actions of the men and women who willingly sacrificed their lives and who displayed the highest form of honor and duty when they were needed. This is how memories are kept alive and this is the highest form of honor we can show them.

I look forward to seeing you all there.

Be Blessed

The Importance of a Mini Reunion

Our veterans will always remember December 16, 1944, when they were thrust into the chaos of war. The years may have thinned the ranks, but those that remain still have the pride of knowing they played an instrumental part in slowing — and ultimately defeating — the German war machine.

As it becomes more difficult to travel, it is of critical importance that mini-reunions be held wherever our vets can join in. Any city, town — or even in someone's home — would be a fine place to gather to honor, cherish and remember all of our veterans. Plan one in your area today!

Contact Mini-Reunion Chair Wayne Dunn at host106th@106thInfDivAssn.org and he can assist you with members in your area.

Shadows of Slaughterhouse Five

From Ervin Szpek Jr., Non-Veteran Member

Ervin Szpek Jr. (Associate Member) is pleased to announce after many years of research that his and his colleagues' book on the infamous Arbeitskommando Slaughterhouse Five has been released. Nearly every man of this POW work camp (near Dresden, Germany) originated from the 106th Infantry Division including former 106th Association President, Gifford Doxsee. The book is their story, in their words and accounts for nearly every POW at the camp. It also chronicles the recollections and reflections of the 150 American Ex-POWs, many of whom are members of the Association. Newly released by iUniverse press at www.iUniverse.com, the book is also available at www.amazon.com and www.BarnesandNoble.com. With best wishes for 2016 and with appreciation for your efforts — thank you.

The Adjutant's Message . . .

The 2017 Reunion has been re-engineered and is scheduled for January 17-21 at the Park Inn by Radisson, Kissimmee Florida. As I'm sure you know, our original date for the reunion was September 13-17 but that date was blown away by Hurricane Irma. We did not cancel the original dates until Monday the 11th when it became apparent the hotel could not host our group. Every business we dealt with saw fit to refund our deposits in full, and in response we have been able to re-book all of the original vendors. All of our tours are rescheduled and the program is as it was originally.

As a refresher, the reunion will kick off on Wednesday, Jan. 17, with a Board meeting followed by a welcome Reception in our Hospitality Room for all who can attend. On Thursday we have a tour planned that will take us to the home of the Warbirds followed by lunch on your own. After lunch we will visit the Kissimmee Museum of Military History. This tour is included and all registered attendees can attend at no additional cost. Thursday evening is a relaxed welcome dinner with great food and time to visit with your friends.

Friday after breakfast, we will have our memorial service honoring all veterans of the 106th Division. This will be followed by the Noon Luncheon. We will discuss the coming year and how the association proceeds. Friday evening we will attend the Capone's Dinner show. Big Al might even be there. It is an all you can eat buffet and includes beverages. I was encouraged about this show when I made contact with a transportation company. I told her that we had three tours scheduled

woodchuck01@sbcglobal.net

and she said "Capone's and what others?" I asked how she knew and she replied, "It's a great show, the food is excellent and everybody goes there."

Saturday finds us with another tour. We are going to the Chocolate Kingdom. We will be able to see the process from the bean to the finished product, sampling along the way. Lunch is on your own at Old Town which is right next door. Our banquet is that evening as a finale of the reunion.

Having to cancel our original schedule was a myriad of emotions and unknown ramifications. Some people planning to attend the original dates may not be able to go now. For that we are sorry. On the positive side there are several groups that can now go but could not earlier and for that we are thankful. Some have said "but what about the possibility of snow" and I say "What a wonderful time to go to Florida."

The Adjutant's Message . . .

Families, get your veteran excited about going. Veterans, call your buddies and encourage them to come visit with you and your family. Get your reservations in by mid December and get ready for a wonderful time. See you there.

Randall M. Wood, Adjutant
Robert Wood 423-I

Our banquet speaker this year is Pastor Chris Edmonds of the Piney Grove Baptist Church in Maryville, TN. His father was Master Sergeant Roddie Edmonds, 422 Regiment, 106th ID.

While Chris's daughter was doing an essay on family history, she began researching her grandfather's diary from his POW exploits. Chris continued the research and began speaking about his father's story, "Roddie's Code," around the country. The story of his father, a soldier imprisoned by the Nazis in WWII — whose courage is an example for all of us — was featured in Vol. 72, No. 1 (March 2016) of The CUB, "American WWII Vet Becomes First Soldier Honored for Saving Jews."

The Sitting Duck Division: Attacked from the Rear

By John W. Morse (422/C)

This is the story of one boy soldier and his fellow GIs from draft to disaster and back. John W. Morse's (422/C) self-published book describes being taken prisoner in the Battle of the Bulge. This book can be ordered through your local Barnes & Noble book store. The book is priced $9.95, plus shipping.

Historian's Message . . .

I don't seem to be doing much as the Association Historian these days. The individual memoirs have stopped arriving and it is no secret why. I expect there will be more as the children and grandchildren of our veterans one day discover that their Dad or Gramps served with distinction in a war that guaranteed their lifestyle. Then they will be motivated to tell his story. The books will live on and so will our history.

Being an historian seems to be something that grows on you. The more that I read about our history and the more people that I meet, I have come to understand how our world works. Well, maybe not. That would take a lot of understanding for sure. But, there is one thing that I would like to get across, and that is this. When we enter this world we are given the opportunity to take off in any direction and pursue our dreams. For some it is easier than it is for others. But usually it is how one is able to recognize the doors that appear before him. Some open easily, others must be battered down to achieve your goals, figuratively of course.

At least 17, maybe 20, years ago there was talk among our Association members of what are we going to do when it comes time to discontinue the 106th Infantry Division Association. Some were concerned about ending it at that time. Well, we are still moving along when other military groups that were founded on WWII action have surrendered to Father Time. The reason is not complicated, we have had continuing leadership and the sense of pride that goes with it. Our guys heed that old adage of ten two-letter words, "If it is to be, it is up to me." We want it, so we will have it! Now our second generation has pumped new energy into the organization. The 106th Division will live on. I am proud to have had a part in it.

There were so many American military units in action during WWII that the history of each and every one is beyond the scope of any one individual to be versed in them all. Our 106th Infantry Division will be remembered in the many books that have recorded the memoirs of our veterans. For recording history don't depend on Social Media that is here today and gone tomorrow, add these books to your library for posterity.

One Step to Hell: Letters From My Father Telling Me I Was Too Weak
& Too Frail to Face the Enemy

A new book by Harry F. Martin, Jr.

This is the story of Harry F. Martin, Jr., in L Co 424th Regiment of the 106th Infantry Division who fought in the Battle of the Bulge in World War II. In his own words: "We were going to a quiet sector on the front lines. This was an area where combat troops were sent to rest and green troops like us were sent to gradually break in. The Germans did the same thing in this sector. The Americans had gone into combat at the Normandy invasion on June 6, 1944 and fought their way just inside Germany, securing a foothold in the Siegfried Line in the Ardennes."

ONCE UPON A TIME IN WAR

THE 99TH DIVISION
IN WORLD WAR II
ROBERT E. HUMPHREY

Once Upon a Time in War

The 99th Division in World War II

By Robert E. Humphrey

Once Upon a Time in War presents a stirring view of combat from the perspective of the common soldier. Author Robert E. Humphrey personally retraced the path of the 99th through Belgium and Germany and conducted extensive interviews with more than three hundred surviving veterans. These narratives, seamlessly woven to create a collective biography, offer a gritty reenactment of World War II from the enlisted man's point of view. For readers captivated by Band of Brothers, this book offers an often tragic, sometimes heartwarming, but always compelling read.

Visit the 106th Association's Website!

By Wayne Dunn

To complement the wonderful websites that are already out on the Internet, including our own members Jim West (www.IndianaMilitary.org) and Carl Wouters (www.106thinfantry.webs.com), the association has launched our own website at www.106thInfDivAssn.org.

This is where you can find: info on upcoming events; copies of the membership application for your family to join; the complete latest issue plus additional photos and articles from The CUB.

Also look for our Facebook page at Facebook.com/106thInfDivAssn.

This is where you can find up-to-the-minute information and where you can connect with friends and make plans for the next reunion.

If you have any additional reunion photos or information that you would like to see on the website or Facebook page, please contact the Webmaster, Wayne Dunn at Host106th@106thInfDivAssn.org or 410-409-1141.

Jim West and the www.IndianaMilitary.org Website

Associate member, Jim West (OGL-Officers, 2004) has created an excellent website at <http://www.indianamilitary.org>. It is hoped that this website will increase awareness of the 106th Infantry Division Association and perhaps our membership. The site has had 1,708,009 visitors to date. It is rated as the largest private site in Indiana at more than 50 gigabytes of unaltered history and is the largest depository of local historical photos. Check it out at your earliest convenience.

In addition to a very large section devoted to the 106th Division, it also contains information on Camp Atterbury (Indiana) and all the divisions that trained here in World War II and Korea.

They include the 28th, 30th, 31st, 83rd and 92nd Infantry Divisions, plus Fort Benjamin Harrison, Freeman AAF, Atterbury/Bakalar AFB, the German and Italian POWs held at Camp Atterbury and Wakeman General Hospital. There is also a section for the several German Prisoner of War camps where some 106th members were held. There are dozens of 106th diaries and personal remembrances. The direct link to the 106th web is <http://tinyurl.com/IMO-106th>

The 106th Roster at <http://tinyurl.com/106th-Roster> now contains information on 17,792 Veterans with 555 individual photos. If you visit the website, listed above, and a photo is not shown for an individual and the family has one available, all they need do is email a scan of him to Jim West.

All 106th General Orders have been reviewed and all the information has been added to the Roster. These General Orders allowed for the addition of 513 previously unknown names to be added and a huge amount of service numbers and other data were added. All the original General Orders are available for viewing on the website. These were made possible by a friend, John Bowen, of the 31st Division Association (Camp Atterbury, Korean War).

Every available issue of the 106th CUBs are available on the site, in addition to the Camp Atterbury Camp Crier, published when the 106th was there. Find the Camp Crier under the section for Camp Atterbury. You can email Jim at jimdw@centurylink.net.

Jim would like to thank the "AmVets of Indiana." Through their generosity of support and hosting of the entire website, they are making it possible for the 106th to have a presence on the Web.

Please note: ALL of the past CUBs on the website are now in a user-friendly format and each is searchable by veteran's name, units, place, etc.

Support the Association — and Get a Great Book!

A new book on the 106th Infantry Division was recently published and is now available. Association Historian John Schaffner reports that the authors, Martin King, Ken Johnson and Mike Collins have decided that partial proceeds will be contributed to the 106th Association.

WARRIORS OF THE 106TH

THE LAST INFANTRY DIVISION OF WORLD WAR II

Martin King, Ken Johnson & Michael Collins

The 106th were fresh, green and right in the pathway of the German 5th Panzer Army when the Battle of the Bulge began at 0530 hours on December 16, 1944. This book covers the history along with the individual stories of the incredible heroism, sacrifice and tenacity of these young Americans in the face of overwhelming odds. These stories are heartwarming, heartbreaking, nerve-wracking, and compelling. They aim to put the reader right there on the front lines, and in the stalags, during the final months of WWII.

THE BATTLE FOR SNOW MOUNTAIN

by Donald Young

The Battle for Snow Mountain is a comic novel — based on Young's experience — which gives a surreal picture of the German attack on the 106th Division in the winter of 1944.

The story deals with two soldiers, their odd love affairs at home, their war experience in the Battle of the Bulge, their accidental capture, escape from POW camp and return to freedom.

"I've never read a more powerful WWII novel than
The Battle for Snow Mountain."

JOHN DIZIKES, FORMERLY PROFESSOR AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA CRUZ

"Young's novel is an instant war classic, much like Vonnegut's Slaughter House Five and Heller's Catch 22."

WALLACE WOOD, BOOK REVIEWER

The Battle for Snow Mountain by Donald Young can be purchased by April 1, from Pocol Press, 6023 Pocol Drive, Clifton, VA 20124, 1-703-830-5862.

It can also be ordered at Amazon.com, $17.95, ISBN 978-1-929763-48-1

Golden Lion Boris Stern French Knight of the Legion of Honor

by Boris Stern

On June 9, 2017, Counsel General of France Clement Leclerc wrote to Boris Stern in the name of the French Republic to inform him that he was nominated as a Knight of the Legion of Honor. Leclerc went on to say, “your decision to fight for freedom in World War II was admirable, demonstrating your courage and selflessness. Without you and those who fought alongside you, France and Europe may never have been liberated from the barbarity of Nazi occupation. The solidarity that you showed to our country and people will never be forgotten and will be considered an example to follow for the next generations. It is our privilege to present you France’s highest distinction. Rest assured that we will be eternally grateful for your contribution.”

At a ceremony on July 14, 2017, Brigadier General Thierry Ducret, the French representative to U.S. CENTCOM, in MacDill AFB, Tampa, had the pleasure and the honor to present Stern the Legion d’Honneur medal during the celebration of France’s National Day. The event took place at the Women’s Club of St. Petersburg, FL.

In addition to this French honor, Boris has also been awarded multiple Life Time Achievement Awards for his volunteer service at VA Hospitals with the Department of Veteran Affairs, including commendation from former president Barack Obama.

Golden Lion Harold Beam Shares His Remembrances

When I read the April-July 2017 edition of the CUB, I finally found a member of the Company G, 423rd Regiment that I actually knew. That was the former Lt. Jones. It seems that there are very few members of that company still around and I wonder why other members never joined the Association. I was the Company and Battalion bugler and captain's runner in combat. I was also in Stalag VIB until sent to Gleina (near Zeitz) in a work party of one hundred men. I was liberated April 13th and immediately sent to the field hospital and then to the U.S. hospital near Utica, New York. That was a long time ago.

The Veterans Department at Mesothelioma Guide — An Advocacy Organization

By Carl Jewett

Mesothelioma Guide is an advocacy organization with a Veterans Department devoted to assisting veterans who have been diagnosed with an aggressive form of cancer called mesothelioma. Mesothelioma is caused by the inhalation of asbestos fibers, a mineral that was widely used by all branches of the military until the early 1980s. As a result, almost one-third of all mesothelioma patients are veterans.

The Veterans Department at Mesothelioma Guide is run by retired Navy LCDR Carl Jewett, who spent nearly 24 years in the submarine force — primarily working in the Engine Room where asbestos use was most prevalent — before retiring from the Navy. Commander Jewett is a VA-Accredited claims agent and specializes in asbestos related VA claims. He has helped hundreds of veterans get approved for VA Disability, Pension and Aid & Attendance after developing an asbestos disease due to their asbestos exposure in the military.

Veterans with an asbestos-related disease are encouraged to seek assistance in determining whether they are eligible for compensation through the VA. Contact Mesothelioma Guide today and speak directly with Commander Jewett about your potential to receive your hard earned benefits. You've earned them.

A Brief Military History

By Leon Goldberg, submitted by Past Association President Herb Sheaner

At age 18, when I (Leon Goldberg) was a high school student in 1940, I joined the Enlisted Reserve Corps. While waiting to be called up, I enrolled in the University of Pennsylvania in September 1941. The call came in February 1942.

My basic training was in Camp Wheeler, Georgia. That lasted until May of 1942. After Basic, I was offered a choice of OCS or ASTP. I chose ASTP and studied engineering at Alabama Polytech Institute for three semesters. Then, in February 1943, ASTP was suddenly disbanded. The Army needed more soldiers at the front!

I was sent to the 106th Division and trained further in Camp Atterbury, Indiana. The Division was shipped out to England in October 1944; it was moved to France in November and up to Germany in December to relieve the 2nd Division. We were told we were a winter holding line in the deepest point in the heart of the Siegfried Line—in the Black Forest. I was trained to be a heavy weapons machine gunner in Company D.

We were attacked by the German infantry on the morning of December 16, 1944. We killed and wounded three or four German infantry and captured about 20 prisoners. We thought we had won the war!

Then we fell back and attacked the town of Schoenburg. We were repulsed by heavy armor and tanks. We lost our artillery support and heavy weapons. After three days of fighting, we were out of food and ammunition. On the morning of the 19th, a German officer waving a white flag came out in the open between us and our Lieutenant went to meet him. After accompanying him behind his lines, he came to us and told us he was surrendering us because, otherwise, we would be annihilated within 15 minutes by the heavy weapons they had just over the hill.

The Germans marched us, part of a group of thousands of prisoners, for eight days and transported us in boxcars for five days, until we reached a prison camp. Mine was Stalag IVB, situated halfway between Leipzig and Dresden in Muhlberg on Elb. It was on the East side of the Elb River.

I was lucky to be in a British Officer's Camp (the German Army had respect for army officers), never to be sent out on a work team (although I was scheduled to be several times), and not to be treated differently as a Jew.

When the war was over, we had to wait to be liberated by the Russians, because we were on the East side of the Elb. Roosevelt's agreement with Churchill and Stalin set that restriction up. They arrived at the camp on about May 26, 1945, but did nothing to connect us with American troops. So after about eight to 10 days, eight of us just walked out. We eventually found our way to an American armored company, which arranged a flight to Paris for us. We were hospitalized in an Army hospital in the suburb of Garche. On July 4, I was flown to the U.S. to recuperate in the General Hospital in Atlantic City. I was finally discharged on December 20, 1945.

Do You Remember YOUR First Reunion?

Write to us and tell us the story!

Golden Lion and Association Historian Reflects on His First Reunion

By John Schaffner (589 FA)

My first reunion — 1986

Yes, I can remember my first reunion, almost like it was yesterday. It happened in 1986. I had picked up my life after the war and did what many of us did. As my pals from the neighborhood came home we became re-acquainted and though most of us had life threatening experiences we didn't talk about them. The war was behind us, so we thought about our future. I knew that the 106th Association existed but I was not motivated to become a member. There were other things at hand that needed to be done.

Then, 1985-86 arrived. I don't remember who initiated it, but word went around that the reunion would be at Columbia and we would visit Fort Jackson. By then I had become reunited with some of the guys of the 589th so we contacted others and by the time of the big event we had about 19-20 committed to attend just from our battalion. For me the highlights of the event were the times together in the hotel rooms after hours talking about what we had experienced. For some of us it was the first time ever. You might even say that "the dam had busted." For certain, my life since would have not been the same had I not attended my first reunion. Thanks to the guys for being there. I needed you.

MY WAR

by Fredrick Smallwood

This is the story of my experiences as a young boy from a small town in south Georgia with the 106th Infantry Division during World War II. I was initially in the A&P Platoon of 1 Bn. Hq. Co. of the 423rd Regiment. I was one of the few who made my way through the German lines back to the Allied lines at St. Vith.

Prisoner's Odyssey

by Herb Sheaner (422/G)

Prisoner's Odyssey is a story of survival, hunger and reflection from a teenaged prisoner of war inside Germany near the end of WWII. From capture at the Battle of The Bulge to the final escape from his German guards, Herb Sheaner allows us a glimpse into the despair and agony of being a prisoner in a foreign land. During World War II, Herb Sheaner served as a private first class in Company G, 422nd Regiment of the 106th Infantry Division. After receiving ASTP training at University of Alabama, he joined the 106th at Camp Atterbury in Indiana where he earned Expert Rifleman honors and was designated Co. G Sniper and Regimental Scout. Fifty years later he recalls his experiences.

ANNOUNCING THE PUBLICATION OF My Nine Lives BY BOB POPE

Excerpts from My Nine Lives:

Early on the morning of December 16th, 1944, just before dawn, German shells began exploding in front of us, behind us, and on our flanks. Later that morning our position was hit hard by German 88s. Our Battery Commander, Captain Luzzi, became our first casualty.

When the order to fall back was received, the fog was so bad that even with our field glasses it was difficult to tell if the shadowy figures we saw were our soldiers retreating or German soldiers advancing. A German ME109 suddenly appeared out of the fog and strafed us. I have no idea how many of our guys were killed or wounded.

The German advance was so swift and met such little resistance due to the lack of fire power and experience that it was already too late. We were bivouacked in a valley on the night of December 18th when word came that we were surrounded. We were told to dispose of all gun firing pins and all vehicle rotors because we were going to surrender.

Veterans and Family of the 106th Infantry Division TATTOO* Requests

With space in The CUB at a premium, yet Reunited Buddies and Their Families an important commodity, the editor of The CUB of the Golden Lion created the following list [In Their Own Words, most often] of inquiries submitted to him in hopes of helping people get in touch with the 106th I.D. Association Family. The following are requests for information. Feel free to contact them if you believe you can be of assistance. The CUB staff has received permission from all listed below to print their inquiry and their contact email (phone and address when available).

In addition, Non-Veteran member Connie Pratt Baesman, daughter of Lt. Gerald Pratt (Field Artillery), has been one of three people helping to manage the 106th's online "message board" (set up by Jim West) for people to write an inquiry, looking for comrades, or for people who might have known a relative who is now gone. Sadly, some inquiries sit unanswered when the answers may be out there with a reader of The CUB who doesn't use a computer. The list has gotten quite long and Connie has asked that whenever there is room in The CUB we add a few of the requests. You can find messages like these below, along with other searches on the 106th Message Board at the following Web address: <http://106thdivision.proboards.com/index.cgi>

*The original meaning of military tattoo was a military drum performance, but subsequently it came to mean army displays, or a form of gathering more generally. For our Association, letting members know that someone would like to speak with them is "why we do this! So keep sending in your stories, as an old friend may find you!" — Susan Weiss (Publisher of The CUB) and William McWhorter (Editor of The CUB)

Inquiry about serving in the 424th and later 112th Infantry Regiments

My grandfather's discharge papers state he served in the 424th Infantry Regiment, Company L as a squad leader, but on his separation papers it has him with the 112th Infantry Regiment of the 28th Infantry Division in Company C as a SGT in charge of a 12-man squad. I have been trying to find out more but I am clueless how the division, company and infantry all work . . . Is it possible for both to be right? ANNOUNCING THE PUBLICATION OF
CAPTURED AT THE BATTLE OF THE BULGE

BY RUSS LANG

Captured at the Battle of the Bulge

Memoir of a P.O.W.
by Sgt. E. Russell Lang

In December 1944 a young American soldier's division, newly-arrived in Europe, was sent to the front line to a quiet position on the Belgian- German border. Days after their arrival the Germans launched the great counterattack that came to be called the Battle of the Bulge. Russ Lang and his regiment were soon encircled. They attacked until their supplies and ammunition were exhausted, then held out until circumstances forced them to surrender.

Captured at the Battle of the Bulge is Russ Lang's memoir of his service before and during the battle, the hardships he encountered in a series of German stalags, and the joy of liberation as the Germans were overcome. The diary Lang kept as a prisoner of war is included, with additional notes that could not be written down while he remained in the power of his captors. Captured at the Battle of the Bulge is a fascinating personal and historical document.

Forced March from the Bulge to Berchtesgaden

Major John J. Mohn
106th Division, 422nd Infantry,
1st Battalion, HQ Company

Major John J. Mohn (then Captain) was taken prisoner at the Battle of the Bulge in December 1944, along with 7,000 other men. As prisoner camps were too full and the German officers were unsure what to do with so many prisoners, Mohn's POW group was forced to march 1,200 miles.

He was liberated three times, twice recaptured. His final liberation was on May 2, 1945 at Gars-am-Inn. Of the 7,000 men he was only liberated with about 100 men.

John Mohn recorded his POW experience in a memoir. Unfortunately Mohn passed away in January 2005. His book was never published.

Until now.

NEW Release!

Warm Memories of Cold Spring

by Beatrice Fulton Keeber

A Golden Lion's war experiences forged a boy into a man. But what really defined him as the person he became was his "happily ever after" with his family and his 60-year love story. Warm Memories of Cold Spring is not a war story! It's a smile-producing tale of "what came next" that reminds other vets of their own "afters," their children and grandchildren of Dad's and Mom's or Grandpa's and Grandma's lives.

Pfc. Willard H. Keeber, with Co. G, 424th Infantry Regiment, 106th Infantry Division, was placed on-line December 11, 1944 near St. Vith, Belgium, two months past his 19th birthday, five days prior to the German Tank Assault that smashed directly through his position, launching the Battle of the Bulge.

This is the story of a veteran's legacy that left his world better than he found it.

ATIEYEH, EDWARD ELLIS 423/H

— Date of Death: July 18, 2017

Edward and his twin brother

Richard were born and raised in Portland with their younger brother, Victor. Their parents, George Atiyeh and Linda Asly, emigrated from Amar al-Husn, Syria and Beirut, respectively and proudly became American citizens. Ed graduated from Washington High School and earned a Business degree from the University of Oregon. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, enjoying friendships that would last a lifetime.

In June 1944, while home on emergency leave from the Army due to his father's serious illness, Ed met his future wife, Karen Vedvei. He and Karen were married Sept. 6, 1947, at Trinity Episcopal Church. They felt so blessed to have nearly 70 years together.

Ed served in the Army during WWII. In December 1944, he was in front line combat at the Battle of the Bulge in the Ardennes Forest, Belgium with the 106th (Golden Lions) Division which was nearly annihilated in the first week of the German attack. Ed and Richard were separated during the battle, taken as prisoners of war and did not know the other was alive until the war ended. Ed was liberated on Easter in April 1945. He received the Purple Heart, Bronze Star and Combat Infantryman's Badge among other military decorations.

Ed enjoyed a successful career with his brothers, expanding the Atiyeh Bros. Oriental rug and cleaning business established by his uncle Aziz Atiyeh and father George in 1900. Ed left a lasting impact on his industry and many people in this community. He served as President of both national and regional rug cleaning associations, Senior Warden at St. Barnabas Church, Charter President of the S.E. Portland Rotary Club, Rotary District 5100 Governor and Board of Directors member at Providence Child Center Foundation and the University Club. He was Board President of William Temple House and after his retirement spent most Tuesdays for 24 years as a social services volunteer. Along with Richard, their active civic involvement also developed a network of personal contacts across the State to support Victor's election as Oregon Governor from 1979-1987.

Ed was universally known for his kindness, generosity, integrity, quick wit and humble demeanor. He and Karen created a beautiful home and filled it with love and kindness that left a special mark on many a childhood memory.

Memoriam . . .

He knew everyone within the company and neighbors by name, along with their families. Ed endeared himself to both young and old by inquiring about their lives and remembering what they told him, a trait that he carried with him to his final days. He loved to golf and to have lunch with his buddies at Portland Golf Club where he was a member for 63 years. Ed is survived by Karen; children, David (Darlene), Linda Anderson (Rainse) and Bob (Deb); grandchildren, Carrie (Jeff Coombe), Kevin (Jenny), Josh Rink and Sarah Rink; and beloved great-grandchildren, Ryan, Bella, Madeline, Charlotte and Norah.

The Atiyeh family appreciates the support Dad received in recent months from the doctors, specialists and nurses at St. Vincent Hospital, care services at Marquis-Vermont Hills, the friendly and skilled staff at Markham House, Providence Hospice and the compassionate individuals from Interim Health Care. In lieu of flowers, contributions to William Temple House, 2023 N.W. Hoyt St., Portland 97209 are appreciated. A celebration of life will be held at 10:30 a.m., Aug. 11, 2017, at the Episcopal Parish of St. John the Baptist, 6300 S.W. Nicol Rd., on the OES campus, followed by a reception at the Portland Golf Club.

DOXSEE, GIFFORD B. 423/HQ

— Date of Death: July 16, 2017

The town of Athens (Ohio) lost a good friend when Gifford B. Doxsee, 93, died on the evening of July 16, 2017 at OhioHealth O'Bleness Hospital, Athens. Gifford was born July 4, 1924 in Bay Shore, NY. Gifford grew up working hard in his father's clamming business, Doxsee Sea Clam Company. He graduated from Freeport High School in 1942 and that same year Gifford enlisted in the United States Army: eventually he served in the European Theater, 106th Infantry Div., 3rd Bn HQ Co., 423 Infantry Regiment in World War II. He was a prisoner of war in Germany for five months, billeted in Dresden, Germany in Slaughter House 5, where he met fellow Prisoner of War Kurt Vonnegut, who later wrote the novel "Slaughter House 5" which was inspired by their experience.

After the war, Gifford attended Cornell University, graduated in 1948, then attended Harvard University for graduate studies in history of modern Europe. He earned his graduate degree in 1949, taught at The American University in Beirut, Lebanon from 1952-1955 and later earned a PhD from Harvard University in 1966.

Gifford moved to Athens in 1958 to teach European, African and Middle Eastern history at Ohio University. He married his wife, Mary Letitia Cowan, who was also a professor at OU, in 1964. During his years at OU, Dr. Doxsee was considered a scholar of Middle Eastern History. He served on committees for the university, including chairing the Energy Conservation Committee in the 1970s and directing the African Studies graduate program from 1983-1991 and is remembered by many students as a supporter and encourager who helped his students achieve their goals. Dr. Doxsee enjoyed attending OU basketball games with his wife and friends, traveling, telling stories about his life and being part of the OU community. After 35 years at OU, Dr. Doxsee retired from teaching and became Professor Emeritus of History. He and his wife chose to stay in Athens after their retirements.

Gifford was active in the life of Athens, volunteering and sometimes serving as director for many local organizations including: the Athens County Historical Society and Museum, Rural Action, Planned Parenthood of S.E. Ohio, Appalachian Community Hospice and others. He was a member of the Athens Reading Club, Kiwanis Club of Downtown Athens and several national professional organizations. He was inducted into the Ohio Senior Citizens Hall of Fame for his many years of community service. Additionally, he served as adjunct/treasurer of the Mid-Ohio Valley Chapter, American Ex-Prisoners of War and as JVC of the Dept. of Ohio. Remembering his prisoner of war days, he taught GED classes to prison inmates and mentored ex-convicts. He was inducted into the Ohio Veterans Hall of Fame in 2011. He was loved by many in Athens and had just recently received an Honor Quilt from the Athens Ladies Elk Auxiliary.

Gifford was a faithful and active member of the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd in Athens where he served in multiple capacities, including Senior Warden and participated in many diocesan-wide ministries in the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio. Gifford served on the Liberian Discernment Committee and visited the Anglican Diocese of Liberia to form a relationship between the two dioceses. He helped start and supported the Hocking Valley Correctional Chapter of KAIROS, a Christian ministry to prisoners, supported programs to welcome and support Haitian refugees and was instrumental in forming relationships with international students, especially students from Africa. His relationship with an Anglican priest from Nigeria, the Rev. Felix Obayan, led to the Bishop of the Anglican Diocese of Swana in Western Nigeria, the Rt. Rev. Herbert Haruna, asking Gifford to serve as his Commissary, which led to many relationship-building visits. Gifford worked with several other members of Church of the Good Shepherd who together helped the parish realize, embrace and live into its ministry to the international students in Athens.

Whether people knew Gifford from OU, around town, his local parish, diocese or international relationships, he was known as someone who cared about others, was genuinely interested in how people were doing and wanted to do what he could to make the world a better place. Gifford is survived by his brother, Robert L and many nieces and nephews. He was predeceased in death by his wife, Mary, in 2008.

MANN, THEODORECHRISTOPHER, JR.422/F— Date of Death: June 30, 2017

"The Battle of the Bulge was the final push toward Berlin by the allied troops and was the largest campaign of the war (excluding D Day). Ted and Harry Bell were sent to Belgium toward the end of the war and were part of the 106th Infantry Division, which was the last U.S. Army division to be activated in WWII. The division was comprised of three regimental combat teams: 422nd, 423rd and 424th RCT. The division took over the "ghost front" in the Schnee-Eiffel sector to relieve the 2nd Infantry. The sector was so named by GIs because it was so uneventful.

On December 10, 1944, Ted and Harry Bell were on the Schnee-Eiffel ridge of the German Siegfried Line. They were somewhere east of St. Vith, Belgium, in the Ardennes forest. Ted was in headquarters and Harry in the mortar squad. "On December 16, Germans broke through on both ends of our 106th division line, leaving us surrounded," Harry said. On December 19th, after a valiant four-day fight and out of ammunition and food, both the 422nd and 423rd infantry and most of their supporting artillery and attached units (5,000–6,000 men) were captured. The 424th was able to pull back to St. Vith and participated in the rest of the battle and the counter-offensive in January–March 1945.

On that morning (Dec. 19) Ted crawled out of his tent to do his business to find that they were surrounded by Germans who confiscated their weapons and boots and forced them to march in the snow. Harry recalls that they marched all day and night to a railhead. He said, "Germans loaded us in small boxcars, over 40 men to a car, standing. One night in a rail yard in Koblenz, British bombers destroyed several cars in our train. We couldn't see, but word spread that there were many casualties. Finally we were let out to get our first water. Germans loaded us all on trucks and drove us to the village of Bad Orb and then to Stalag I-B where we arrived on Christmas day." Ted thought to himself, "What a lousy Christmas this is going to be." Harry said, "We were locked up every night with no sanitary facilities. Food was a cup of ersatz tea at breakfast, a cup of beet top soup at lunch and one loaf of black ersatz bread divided for eight men." Pop Ted told us that the other soup they often consumed was a boiled down horse's head broth along with moldy black pumpernickel bread, this was every day. "One day a U.S. fighter strafed our barracks by mistake, there were some casualties."

On April 2, 1945, tanks from Patton's army came through the gates. "Three days later, U.S. forces took us to the Frankfurt airport. We were flown to Camp Lucky Striker in France. Ted and others were flown to England to a hospital. He never told me about it. I was sent home on a ship. Ted was sent home from England via a hospital ship and had severe malnutrition and pneumonia, weighting only 87 lbs."

A Very Important Message from the Treasurer and All Members of the Board

Please read and take action now, thank you.

With each issue of The CUB magazine the incoming mail box swells with letters of appreciation from readers who express thanks and encouragement for us to “keep up the good work.”

The Last Man Standing

It is our wish to continue the Association at a minimum through “The Last Man Standing.” Since eliminating annual dues several years ago the association has relied largely on reserve savings to continue The CUB and other services at its present level. Your support is necessary to complete the mission of honoring our veterans and continuing the legacy of the 106th through education, reunions and publication of The CUB.

Keep up the Good Work

We need your help to meet basic financial needs of the Association. If we reach our annual goal of $20,000, we will be able to preserve our savings and keep up the “good work” for many years to come. Use the enclosed envelope to return your contribution marked “Sustentation Fund” in whatever amount possible. Any amount is appreciated, $10 – $1,000 or more.

Also, please tell us how you wish to receive future issues of The CUB. Email to membership@106thinfdivassn.org and indicate a delivery preference; Mail (paper in black and white) or Email (PDF in color). Approximately 65 percent of Association expenses are directly related to printing and shipping The CUB each year. Your choice to receive The CUB by email will help defer expenses and enable us to continue to deliver The CUB until “The Last Man Standing.”

Show support for our mission by giving generously. Your continued support is greatly appreciated.

Thank you.

If you or someone you know would like to make an additional contribution, please mail a check made payable to 106th Infantry Division to:

from

January 17 to 21, 2018

The 2017 Reunion has been rescheduled due to Hurricane Irma! *Have you re-registered yet?

We have had an adjustment in the dates since the last publication of The CUB for this year's reunion and our hotel cost is now only $99 per night plus tax.

Or sign up for the first time!

Go to the Association website

www.106thInfDivAssn.org

for information about the reunion and for downloadable paperwork or use the printed paperwork included in this issue of The CUB.

We are all feeling the effects of the current financial upheaval, including the 106th I.D. Association. The Annual Dues of $10 are no longer billed or collected. We are now accepting only donations for membership, memorials and LIFE PLUS. The previously-allowed payment of $75 for Life Membership creates a financial shortfall, as our expenses exceeds our income.

Our solution?

We are asking you to join the LIFE PLUS+ Club

Those Members who contribute to the LIFE PLUS+ Club will have their names (only, no amounts will be shown) published in the next CUB.

You can donate as much or as little as you can and as often as you like. By donating, you are helping perpetuate the 106th Infantry Division Association.

To those Members who we haven't heard from for a long time — please take the time to join this exclusive club. Thank you!

Send your contribution, check made payable to 106th Infantry Div. Association, to:
